Will Bolivians be able to compete with StarLink?

"If anyone is going to be able to compete with Starlink in the near future, it will be them," said Gregory Falco, an assistant professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at Cornell University. For now, pressure to connect Bolivians is growing, with lawmakers reconsidering if the country should allow Starlink to operate in the country.

Is Bolivia shunning Starlink?

Mr. Musk's Starlink has brought the internet to some of South America's most remote places. But Bolivia is shunning it, even as many there are desperate for better service. A Starlink satellite internet antenna in rural Brazil in 2024. Victor Moriyama for The New York Times
